

Keats-Shelley Memorial Association Prize 2005

Congratulations to the winners of the Keats-Shelley Memorial Association Prize 2005.

Prizes for the essay and poetry competitions were awarded to the following:

POEMS

For a poem set on a Romantic theme associated with 'Ghosts'.

1st Prize, EDMUND CUSICK, for “Speaking in Tongues”

2nd Prize, WILLIAM PALMER, for “Orders of the Day”

3rd Prize, SIRIOL TROUP, for “Nox Elephantorum”

ESSAYS

For an essay on any aspect of Keats's or Shelley's work or life.

1st Prize, DAVID TAYLOR, for “A Vacant Space, an Empty Stage: Prometheus Unbound, the Last Man, and the Problem of Dramatic (Re)form”

2nd Prize, POLLY ROBINSON, for “Physician to all Men? The Influence of Keats’s Medical Training”

3rd Prize, MICHAELA BRONSTEIN, for “The Half-Unravelling Web: Keats’s Intermediate Truths”

The Chairman of the 2005 Prize Panel was Stephen Fry, author, actor, comedian and film director. The other Panel members were Matthew Sweeney, John Hartley-Williams, Professor Peter Kitson and Dr Seamus Perry.